reted and improved prospects for not rately bullish effect on cotom prices The census department ancrately bullish effect on cotton prices today. The census department ansocured that to Dec. I the ginning bad I been $832.712 bales, which was againer expectations for about $15.000 takes appeared for about $15.000 takes are expectations for about $15.000 takes are expectations for about $15.000 takes are expectations for about $15.000 takes are expected the ginning was $1.228.000, compared with $65.000 for the same period tast year. The result of the report was disposition to slightly shade yield expectations, which had recently undergone some revision upward.

The news regarding the arrise situation was encouraging, but there was no little that was definite about the statements contained in the press that trades were disposed to be a bit shy about some time for things to get normal. However, all during the day the chance of adjustment had stimulative effect on bullish feeling.

Liverpool came much better than expected and chosed around the best level of the day. The news that the allies had agreed to modify the terms of the protocol was helpful, for it increased chances of Germany signing without having to be forced into it. The ginning information from this side also helped to push values upward toward the close, an it meant crop ideas were to be affected. Finals were steady and from 14 to 23 points to the good for oution, while spects were up 13 points, including $25.500 kmerican. Receipts for the day were $4.000 bales, including $40,700 American. Private cables said that Manchester trade was excellent and showed no signs of diminution. The further deprectation in sterling rates also tended to give strength to Liverpool prices.

On this side first prices were firm and higher in line with the character.

Some Advance in Corn Follows Cheerful News as to the Strike Situation.

CHICAGO Dec. 8.—Moderately higher prices for corn resulted today from prospective settlement of the cost strike. Opening quotations, which ranged from the total strike with January $1.36% and May $1.3461.44%, were followed by a slight reaction and then by upturns higher than before.

In the later dealings unusual weakness of the hog market pulled down the price of corn. The close was heavy. I see not lower to be advance, with January $1.35 to $1.35% and May $1.27% to $1.33.

New tirleaus—Galveston clears 38,000 to Great British. Market holds pretty well at the advance despite considerable sold on the rise probably in anticipation of bureau estimate next Thursday. Spot people report better demand for Liverpool cotton, but common and grade and staple neglected—Clark & Co. New York wires: Liverpool strength and their buying here forced local cov-ering, Mitchell good buyer January only.

Chicago—Am not particuarly bullish on corn but the buyer has the advantage as long as premiums for current arrivals maintain. Market is marrow and has the usual holiday duliness. See no prospects of any large movement.—Bibbook to Clark & Co.

Babcock to Clark & Co.
Chicago—The prospective settlement of the coal strike may have bearish influence in the corn market on the theory of resumption of railroad traffic even.

Chicago—Corn and oats: Some sec-tions of Illinois and Indiana report few offerings of oats, 80 days shipments. The advance in prices has attracted sellers. Iowa dealers are filled up with corn and not husking oats because of that fact. Cash corn shippers are after better grades of corn, but the power grades slow; sales good—Clement Cur-tis to McFail.

Chicago Hogs at the yards reported $1.00 lower, market demoralized. Stocks.

New York—We look for further im-provement in the stock market soon and would buy the active stocks on all small recessions.—Bache & Co. to Clark & Co.

New York—There is now a likelihood of a settlement of the coal strike, the terms being known only to the leaders. This is not surprising whenever a situation becomes so bad that if threatens disaster, there is usually a turn for the better. The head of the Southern Pacific in a statement published yeaterday indicates a likelihood of a postponement of definite rational legislation and in its place a temporary law to maintain present rates and government guarantee for the intervening period. This would be distinctly favorable—T. & M.

700 American. Private cables said that Manchester trade was excellent and showed no signs of diminution. The further depreciation in sterling rates also tended to give strength to Liverpool prices.

On this side first prices were firm and higher in line with the character of news and cable. March stood at 134 40, a rise of 40 points over night. A temporary dip followed, March selling at 134 28, but that proved low point and thereafter support was good and offerings limited. January was getting good support from the spot interests and some covering in March resulted from calling by spinners. The list kept within a narrow range, but gradually improved as confidence increased in the carly end of the strike and March sold up to 34.90 in the mid-afternoon session. Profits were accepted, however, and the market had a two-sided appearance pending the coming of the official guess on Tuesday.

des, relatively firm cables and unfa vorable weather for picking and the grade of cotton in the South appeared responsible for the early firmness of today's cotton market. The opening was 15 to 40 points higher and active months sold 21 to 75 points not higher after the call, with January touching 27:23 and May 32:58. The ceneus report, showing 5:833,712 hales ginned prior to Dec. 1, was not an important factor.

Trade interests were the best buyers on the advance during the middle of the morning, general business being comparatively quiet. Around 21:28c for January and 32:72c for May, there was enough realizing to cause reactions of 10 or 15 points, but the market held very steady early in the afternoon and within 1 or 4 points of the best.

Offerings remained light and the early afternoon market sold up to 37:50c for January and 32:85c for May or about 85 to 33 points net higher on continued covering and trade buying, while December, after selling at 39:40c, or 123 points net higher, broke to 38.80c on one or two transactions. Later months held within 1 or 4 points of the best around 2 o'clock.
